

Disclaimer of Liability

By signing this declaration I confirm that:

1. I am participating in the following event organized by the Verein Wild Love Switzerland:
Wild Love Switzerland Festival 2023
10 – 13 August, 2023, Schloss Glarisegg, Steckborn
2. I assume full responsibility for all actions I take during my participation in the event. The liability of the organizer, any member of the organizing team, and of the facilitators for any damage not caused intentionally or by gross negligence is excluded.
3. I acknowledge that the practices and content shared at this event are not intended or suitable to be used as, to substitute, or to accompany psychotherapy or medical treatment. I hereby confirm that I feel physically and mentally stable, that I am able and ready to participate, and that I will ask for support when I need it.
4. I am aware and conscious about the risks of the transmission of sexually transmitted diseases (STDs) and I will take full responsibility for my own protection and for the protection of every person I will interact with.
5. I agree not to bring any external person into the event space. This concerns the entire time from beginning to end of the event and the entire seminar center of Schloss Glarisegg.
6. I agree to abstain from the consumption of any mind-altering substances for the duration of the event (exceptions: cacao, cigarettes and coffee – we invite awareness of habits or addictive patterns).
7. I confirm that I am sufficiently insured (accident, personal liability).
8. I agree to the following shared commitment for the event:
I declare that as an adult and a sovereign human, I am able and willing to stand up for myself and to decide what is good for me and what is not. I will respect my own and other people's limits. I take responsibility for the nature of my experience as well as for all my actions and interactions on all levels: physically, emotionally, mentally, and spiritually. I am aware that this event includes nudity and sexuality.
9. I agree to follow the following community agreements that are in place at the festival:
 - I agree to breathe, to feel, to be present and to be authentic.
 - I agree to maintain confidentiality. This means not disclosing any individual's identities, stories, and experiences. I am free to speak about my own experience in the festival.
 - I will clearly express my boundaries verbally and/or non-verbally and I will respect the boundaries of others without limitations.
 - I agree to ask for support, guidance, and help when I need it, using clear direct requests.
- I agree to take full responsibility for the nature of my experience during this festival.
